

Pastor's Ponderings

The best part of the new Mandalorian series is baby YODA. He is cute, unpredictable, powerful, and looks like a smaller version of his later self. It has been a pleasure to get to know this character on the new Disney+ streaming service. Though my interest is piqued when YODA does something, in the back of my mind it's a fictional story that is created for entertainment. I may be coming a fan, but that's it.

Obviously it is different for me with Jesus. I can be described as a fan at what Jesus does and the stories of his "heroics" and his miracles intrigue me, however I am propelled to a bigger and deeper relationship with Jesus and his story than any fictional character, or historical figure I know. With Jesus and this salvation story I am brought to a hope, a belief, an attraction, a commitment to the story that no other story brings me. As I engage with Jesus and the Gospels my energy is renewed and it empowers me to continue to live, review my life, serve and grow in service in reflection with how Jesus served and lived and taught.

In the gospel of John, the author writes that what we have in these accounts of Jesus is only the tip of the iceberg. Near the close of the gospel John writes, "Now Jesus did many other signs in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book. But these are written so that you may come to believe that Jesus is the Messiah, the Son of God..." John 20:31

I pray that you too might engage in the Word and see Jesus as an example of how to live and engage in the world. He did not seek the power and prestige of a world leader; instead he was a servant leader. He did not promote himself, or put down his fellow humans; instead his examples of living lead us to deepen our spirituality, to work for the "least of these," to be generous with what we have, and to love through doing justice, loving kindness and walking humbly with the Lord as the prophet Micah proclaimed.

As we believers in Jesus Christ move from the celebration of his birth to his ministry, and eventually to his death and resurrection, join me in engaging this story so that it reflects in our daily lives.

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Fred he/him/his

TLC at TOL Respite Care Program

After having a "respite" in January due to New Year's Day, we are ready to resume our activities on Wednesday, February 5.

On Thursday, January 9, we attended a meeting at the Lutheran Charities of Western New York (LCWNY) office at St. John's Lutheran in Williamsville. Representatives from local agencies supported by LCWNY were there to share information about their programs and goals for 2020. It is always interesting to hear about the work being done in their communities.

We are pleased to have received a portion of the 2020 grant funding from LCWNY. This helps cover monthly expenses, which enables TLC at TOL to remain free of charge for caregivers in the community.

We thank Lutheran Charities for the continued support—it is greatly appreciated.

Hopkins' "Pied Beauty"

Almost any poem by Gerard Manley Hopkins can blow me away with its energy and its rhythms. One of my favorites is a short poem he called "Pied Beauty":

Glory be to God for dappled things--
For skies of couple-colour as a brindled cow;
For rose-moles all in stipple upon trout that swim;
Fresh-firecoal chestnut-falls; finches' wings;
Landscape plotted and pieced—fold, fallow, and plough;
And all trades, their gear and tackle and trim.

All things counter, original, spare, strange;
Whatever is fickle, freckled (who knows how?)
With swift, slow; sweet, sour; adazzle, dim;
He fathers-fourth whose beauty is past change:
Praise him.

Some critics feel they have to "analyze" a poem like this, teach us how it was put together:

Hopkins has set up an overall asymmetrical piece, within which are symmetrical lines, the first and last, the second and third, and asymmetrical lines that do not have doubles in meaning or in syntax. Succeeding lines of each tercet are indented and extended beyond the last, so that the lines seem to "grow" or reach out...

All I want to say is that it's an exciting poem-prayer that finds beauty in unusual places and things, and that thanks God enthusiastically for making them beautiful.

Author's Biography: Gerard Manley Hopkins was born in Stratford, Essex, England on July 28, 1844. He died in 1889.
